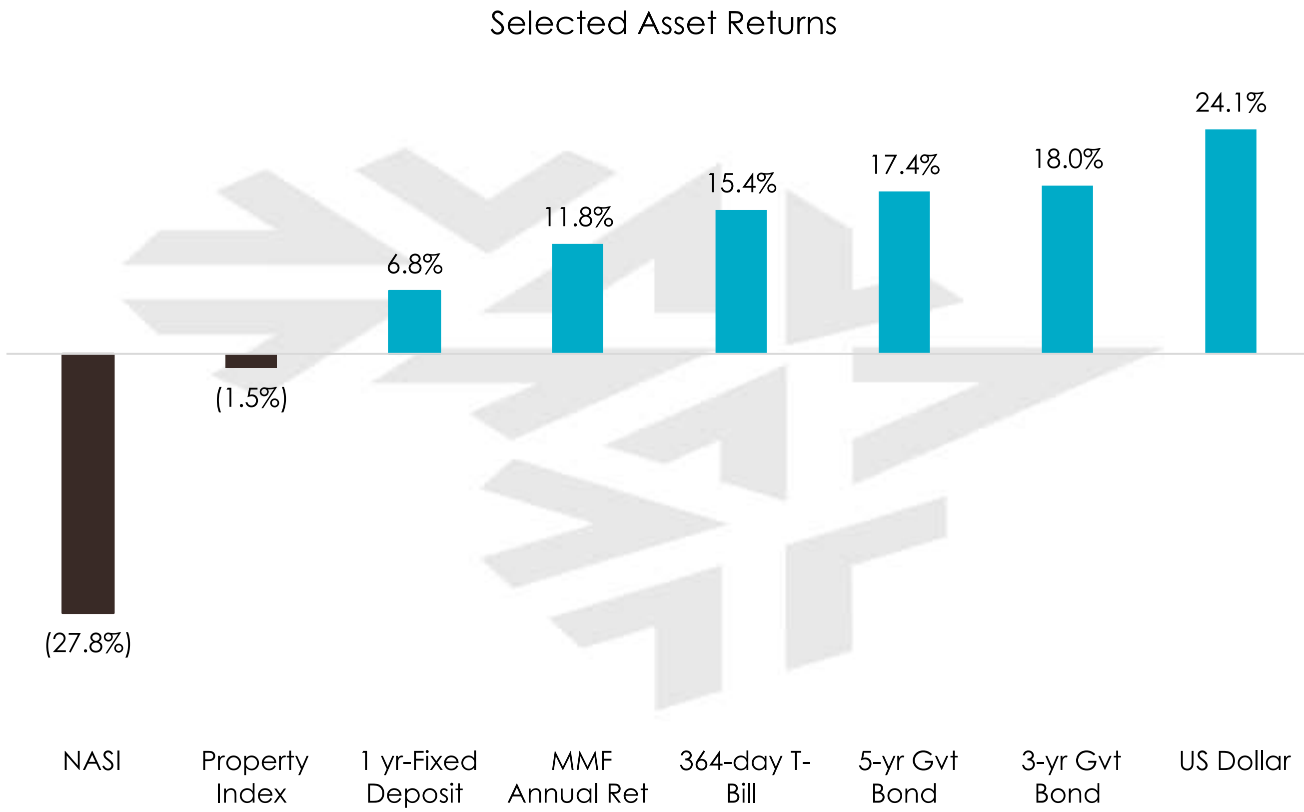
Asset Class Performance

This month, we continue to take a deep dive into the investment returns recorded in 2023, from the various asset classes.



Source; CBK, Hass Consult, NSE, NCBA IB Research

Investment in short term government securities delivered the strongest returns to investors, outperforming both property and listed equities on the Nairobi Securities Exchange.

Government bonds auctioned this year averaged 16.10%, up from 13.32% in the beginning of the year. T-Bills have surpassed the 15% mark from an average of 9.8% at the beginning of 2023. We expect investors to be bullish on short-term fixed income investments in Q42023.

The equities market has faced headwinds on the back of persistent foreign outflows in Q3'2023, although on a lower scale compared to Q3'2022.

Approximately 50% of listed stocks have lost value, with KCB recording a loss of ~51% hitting a 52- week low of KES 15.00, and SCOM reaching a low of KES 11.50.

Banking sector stocks have showed resilience with Standard chartered leading with an ~11% return excluding dividend yield. This is attributable to impressive earnings posted as well as attractive dividends.

The graph below illustrates different stocks under our coverage and their respective performance:

Outlook

The equities market currently presents an investment opportunity. We believe that investors should reposition towards value stocks with strong earnings growth potential and that are trading at discounts to their respective intrinsic values.

Looking ahead, we are cautiously optimistic about the potential return of foreign investors. This would primarily be driven by expected global stability and an improvement in local macro-economic conditions.

Opportunities

- Re-balancing of portfolios: A balanced portfolio is the best defense against a bear market. Diversification of a portfolio seeks to curb exposure to risk, prioritizing investment in companies with strong and well-capitalized balance sheets.

- Dividend stocks: Dividend-paying stocks are an efficient way to hedge the effects of a bear market while providing a steady stream of income to investors.

Threats

- Macro-economic environment: Further deterioration in macroeconomic factors such as overall economic growth, inflation, and interest rates leading to a challenging investment environment.

Global Macro Highlights.

Major Central Bank rates

Recently, the US and EU long-term interest rates have risen past their 2022 highs due to increased inflation, higher commodity prices, and growing interest in Japan's investments. On the other hand, China's economy is slowing, prompting the central bank to pause rates hike.

Japan, seeing inflation and better growth, has eased its control on interest rates, leading to higher long-term rates.

Major central banks, except for the BoE, are likely done with their rate hikes as headline inflation continues to fall with fading growth and supply bottlenecks. Nevertheless, we expect the Fed and the ECB to hold rates at cycle highs for the rest of the year as core inflation remains well above their 2% target.

The European Central Bank (ECB) left interest rate untouched at 4.3% for the first time in more than a year at a meeting in October 2023. The central bank is now at a point where it can pause and assess the impact of its tightening.

The Fed maintained the rate in the ranges of 5.25%-5.50% for a second consecutive time in its November 2023 meeting.

Commodities.

Oil prices are expected to rise going into 2024 exacerbated by the geopolitical conflicts. The World Bank, in its quarterly commodities Markets Outlook stated that a prolonged Israel-Hamas conflict might cause significant increases in oil and food prices, creating a "dual shock" for commodities markets still hurting from Russia's invasion of Ukraine. The potential hike will also be on the back of expected additional oil cuts by OPEC.

Economic Growth.

Japan's industrial production rose more than expected in October, offering a fresh sign of economic resilience as improvement in supply chains bolstered automakers and inventory adjustments underpinned the electronics parts industry.

While headline inflation has been declining, core inflation remains persistent, driven by the services sector and still relatively tight labor markets. Risks continue to be tilted to the downside.

Inflation could continue to prove more persistent than anticipated, with further disruptions to energy and food markets still possible and a sharper slowdown in China could further drag on global growth.

Local Macro Highlights.

Shilling depreciation and a difficult environment prompt further profit warning.

Crown Paints and WPP Scangroup are the most recent listed businesses to issue profit warnings to investors, increasing the total number of listed companies projecting reduced earnings this year to nine.

Longhorn Publishers, Sasini, Car & General, Nation Media Group, Centum Investment Company, Unga Group, and Kenya Power are among the other corporations to have issued alert warnings since March.

The majority of notices that potentially affect dividends are attributable to a difficult operating environment, including greater costs of conducting business.

Kenya gets additional $938 mln from IMF, soothing nerves.

The International Monetary Fund announced in November that it has secured a staff-level agreement with Kenya, granting immediate access to a US $682.3Mn tranche and increasing the current credit program by US $938Mn.

Subject to the approval, Kenya will have access to a total of US $3.88Bn, which would bring its total funding under the existing Extended Fund Facility and Extended Credit Facility arrangements to US $4.43Bn.

Kenya Revives Privatization Program Amid IMF-Supported Reforms

The Kenyan government will sell stakes in 11 state-owned enterprises, kick-starting a privatization program that stalled after it offered investors shares in Safaricom Plc 15 years ago.

The executive wrote a new privatization law this year to accelerate the process as part of reforms agreed on with the International Monetary Fund in a bid to unlock funds. Proceeds from the sales will raise revenue for the cash-strapped government, while reducing the reliance of loss-making entities on the National Treasury.

World Bank sees US $12Bn support to Kenya over next 3 years

The World Bank is also expected to offer US $12Bn of support to Kenya over the next three years, a major boost to Kenya's strained finances. However, the total amount will be subject to the approval of the executive directors and other factors that could influence its lending capacity.

The lender has shown commitment to fully support Kenya's quest to become an upper-middle-income country by 2030.

African Development Bank commits more than €101 Mn to boost access to electricity

The Board of Directors of the African Development Bank Group approved a €101.10Mn loan to Kenya to implement the third phase of the Last Mile Connectivity Project. The project will improve electricity access for households, social infrastructure and micro, small and medium enterprises.

The project will also benefit from a US $13.17Bn loan from the Canada-African Development Bank Climate Fund (CACF), administered by the Bank, providing long-term concessional loans for climate change adaptation and mitigation projects.

Currency:

The KES has maintained a gradual depreciation against the US dollar. It shed an average of 12.34cents daily in the month of November 2023, compared to a daily average of 12.47 cents in October 2023 pointing to persistent dollar demand.

It also depreciated against the Euro and the Sterling pound – a phenomenon attributable to policy rate hikes by the ECB and the Bank of England respectively.

We expect KES to continue depreciating against major currencies owing to the widening interest rate differentials, reserve currency preference due to geopolitical risks and elevated import costs.

The table below highlights the KES movement against the respective foreign currencies:

Currency Performance
Period	USD/KES	GBP/KES	EURO/KES
Nov-23	(1.60%)	(6.10%)	(5.00%)
Year to date	(24.10%)	(30.70%)	(27.80%)

Interest rates:

Yields on GOK treasury bills went up in November, surpassing the 15% mark for the 364-day tenor. High subscription rates were also recorded underpinning demand for short term papers. Investors' demand was concentrated on the 91-day paper as investors looked to mitigate duration risk.

Prevailing rates	Nov-23	Oct-23	W/W change (bps)
91 Day	15.443%	15.110%	33.26
182 Day	15.445%	15.130%	31.45
364 Day	15.583%	15.390%	19.28

Source: CBK, NCBA IB Research

Relatedly, there has been an increased appetite for the domestic debt necessary to meet GOK's target for FY 23/24. We expect the upward pressure on the yield curve to persist for the remainder of the year.

Liquidity conditions

Liquidity conditions in the interbank space eased in November. Indicatively, the overnight interbank rate fell by 7.6bps month on month to close at 11.04%. However, the average daily traded volumes decreased to KES 18.42Bn from KES 21.51Bn observed in the previous month.

Statistic	Nov-23	Oct-23	Change (bps)
CBR	10.50%	10.50%	0.0
Inflation	6.80%	6.90%	(10.00)
Average Interbank Rate	11.04%	11.40%	(36.00)

Source: CBK, KNBS, NCBA IB Research

Inflation.

Inflation eased to 6.80% from 6.90% in the previous month. The food and non-alcoholic beverage index rose by 0.4% in the period lower than the 1.3% increase observed between September and October 2023.

Food prices could be further impacted by the ongoing El Nino — a weather phenomenon characterized by higher than normal rainfall.

Additionally, the government's plan to institute additional levies, such as new excise and value-added taxes portends further upside risk to inflation.

Kenya International Debt:

Kenyan Eurobond yields edged upwards with the KENINT 06/24/2024 recording the highest increase.

Q3 2023 Financial Performance

- Profitability: Profit saw an increase by 0.4% to KES 30.7Bn, largely attributable to strong growth in profitability achieved across all the lender's subsidiaries helping the lender offset the impact of loss at NBK dashing out to an overall growth. Subsidiaries outside Kenya saw a threefold growth in net earnings to KES 12.00Bn driven by strong organic growth in Tanzania, Uganda, South Sudan and consolidation of TMB.

- Customer deposits: Customer deposits saw an increase of 79.6% to KES 1.65Tr driven by organic growth in demand and term deposits in existing business. Net Interest income grew by 21.6% to KES 74.8Bn benefiting from a faster growth in the bank's loan book. The lender saw a decline in net interest margin to 3.6% from 4.8% due to increased cost of fund as a result of high interest rate environment, on the contrary the rollout of risk-based pricing will support the funding/lending spread.

- Growth in Operating expenses: Opex saw a 57.0% increase to KES 76.6Bn driven by exceptional cost items from the consolidation of TMB, staff rationalization program and provision for NBK's court ruling coupled with investments in technology

KCB'S wide regional footprint along with its well diversified business portfolios and capital buffer, positions the lender to gain significant growth momentum across the subsidiaries. The lender has recently signed up on the pan-African payment settlement system which should further cement its grip in the region and continent.

- Government securities: Recorded an increase of 14.6% to KES 84.64Bn. The increase was driven by a high interest rate environment with T-bills surpassing the 15.0% mark this year.

Outlook

The lender's focus on providing corporate customers with value-add services, maintaining advantage in trade finance, increased leverage in Agriculture, Oil&Gas opportunities position the institution well to unleash its offensive growth strategy. The lender is widening it reach through ecosystem and value chain partnerships focusing on SMEs lifestyles which has led to a growth in their asset base across corporate as well as business banking.

The lender has become more aggressive in growing its loan book with a substantial KES 24Bn being disbursed on a monthly basis accompanied by an impressive repayment performance rate of 98%. This should continue to support NIMs in the near term. Plans are also underway to boost the DRC loan to deposit ratio from the current 56.8% in an additional attempt to boost NIMs.

We are, however, cautiously watchful of growth in the Congolese unit on a constant currency basis given that the unit primarily operates in US dollars. The Bank also completed the acquisition of Rwanda's major bank Cogebanque holding 99.125% of the issued shares. The acquisition is expected to further strengthen the bank's diversification strategy and support its growth as it aims to consolidate its operations with Equity Group Rwanda Plc.

- Customer Deposits: Registered an uptick of 12.9% to KES 43.82Bn. Loans and advances saw an increase of 9.3% to KES 35.199Bn, supported by the lender's growing branch and digital footprint and expanded value propositions.

Outlook

Going forward the bank will leverage on digitization to scale up retail business. The lender will continue to focus on executing its strategy to build a consumer banking business that is digitally enabled to drive reach and invest in areas of competitive strength.

The stock presents an opportunity for long-term investors to earn capital gains. We expect HF Group to deliver profitability in 2023 based on its focus on revenue diversification, cost rationalization and digital transformation.

Recommendation

From our estimates and assumptions, we believe the stock is undervalued and maintain a BUY recommendation with a revised target price of KES 5.50.

Safaricom: BUY with a TP of KES 23.40

Recommendation	BUY
Last Price	14.05
Target Price	23.40
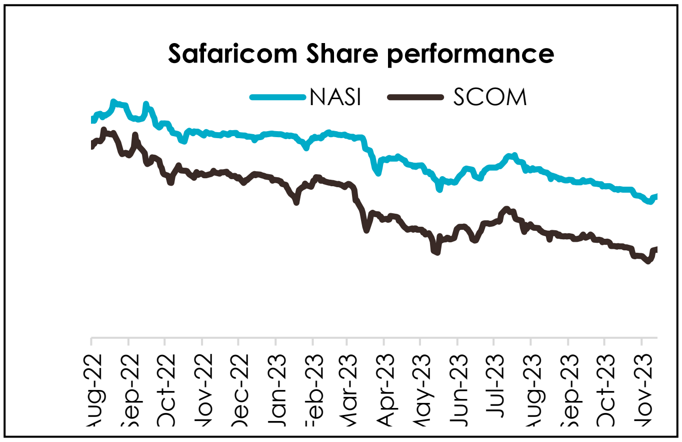
Upside (Excl. Div Yield)	66.55%
Market Cap (KES'Bn)	568.93
52 week high	29.00
52 week low	11.50
Free Float	25.06%



Safaricom' s performance at the Nairobi Securities Exchange has been depressed, down 48% year-to-date compared to the wider index's 30% decline, attributable to the sustained sell-off by foreigners. Safaricom accounts for approximately 50% of the market, based on market capitalization.

H1 2024 Financial Performance

- M-PESA was the key driver of growth: grew by 16.5% to KES 66.23Bn supported by increased personal usage and growth of chargeable transactions per one-month active customers. Financial services revenue however, registered a 19% decline y/y to close at KES 4Bn primarily driven by a decline in revenue attributable to decline in Fuliza.
- Capital expenditure weighs down on the business: Capex saw an increase to 93.1% to KES 96.1Bn driven by accelerated spending on investment in the new growth region of Ethiopia. Capex in Ethiopia was undertaken to support site, infrastructure costs to increase coverage in the growing market.
- Profitability: Net Income grew 10.9% y/y to KES 41.6Bn supported by growth in M-PESA and mobile data revenue in the period. Profit after tax however declined by 10.1% largely attributable to 21.9% increase in operating expenses to KES 37.7Bn.

Outlook

We expect increased revenue from Safaricom Ethiopia, M-Pesa, and mobile data revenue streams. Operations in Ethiopia could help achieve revenue expansion above consensus and entrench the company's presence in the region. We however maintain a cautiously optimistic stance on this diversification venture.

Recommendation

From our estimates and assumptions, we believe the stock is undervalued and maintain a BUY recommendation with a revised target price of KES 23.40. See our Safaricom company report here.

EABL: BUY with a TP of KES 178.05

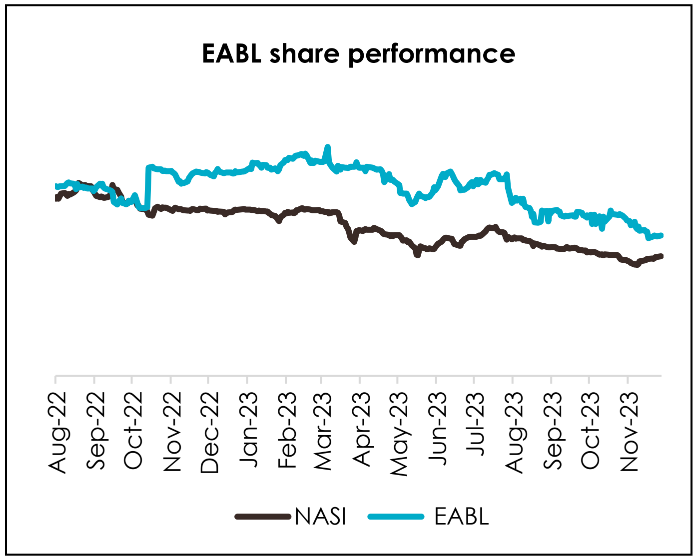
Source: Bloomberg, NCBA IB Research, NSE



Financial Performance

- EABL announced their FY23 financial results recording a decline in profits by 20.9% to KES 12.3Bn in a period deeply impacted by persistent high inflation as well as multiple excise tax increases in Kenya.

- EABL's current revenue contribution has Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania at 64%, 21%, and 15%, respectively.

- Continued consumption of spirits has become entrenched as the favorite for the vibrant young population. Mainstream spirits growth has consistently outperformed the beer category. Net sales from spirits rose by 3% y/y while the beer category saw a decline of 2% y/y. We expect growth in net sales in Kenya to be driven by continued growth in the spirits fueled by premiumization in spirits with brands like Tanqueray and Gordons.

Outlook

We expect performance in the regional subsidiaries to support growth. Subsequently, Kenya's aggregate contribution will decline in the long run on the back of a prohibitive tax environment.

Recommendation

From our estimates and assumptions, we see a significant upside potential and recommend BUY with a target price of KES 178.05. See our EABL company report here.

Financial Performance

- BAT posted a resilient performance whereby earnings per share (EPS) shrunk by 3.5% y/y to KES 28.22 while profit before tax declined by 3.9% y/y to KES 2.82Bn.
- In 1HY23, net revenue declined by 6.9% y/y to KES 13.12Bn driven by a decline in gross sales by 4% y/y to KES 20.99Bn mainly driven by low sales volumes in the domestic market as well as a decline in cigarette and cut rags.
- We expect performance in the regional subsidiaries to support growth and Kenya's aggregate contribution to decline in the long run on the back of a prohibitive tax environment.

Outlook

- Despite prevailing macroeconomic challenges, the company is confident in its ability to capitalize on the market by using its customer-centric brands and a winning culture.
- The cigarette giant started the rollout of a KES 2.5Bn investment in a cutting-edge oral nicotine pouch factory in order to improve the health of its clientele. This significantly strengthens revenues, particularly through exports.
- Unpredictable excise duty increases continue to adversely impact affordability, leading to a higher incidence of illicit trade at the expense of the legitimate industry and tobacco-related Government revenues.

Recommendation

From our estimates and assumptions, we see a significant upside potential and recommend BUY with a target price of KES 501.25. See our BAT company report here.

Financial Performance

- Resilient Revenue Growth- the Group's revenue has been resilient despite declining by 5.8% to KES 39.0Bn in the previous year. We expect sales to register mild growth with a forecast CAGR of 2.7% in the next five years.
- Strong Asset Base- Bamburi's assets have grown by 8.4% to KES 56.1Bn with a forecast CAGR of 2.8% in the next 5 years. Property, Plant and Equipment consisting of Land and residential buildings, Equipment and plant and machinery accounted for more than 70% of assets coming in at KES 39Bn.

Outlook

Despite the less than impressive performance in 2022 and H1'2023, we believe Bamburi will deliver a relatively stable performance in the future. The performance will be pegged on;

1. Expected Economic Recovery – We expect sustained economic recovery both in Kenya and Uganda, as well as in Bamburi's main markets in Rwanda, DRC and South Sudan. Manufacturing growth is expected to accelerate given the global supply chain stabilization and consumer demand surge. However, we remain cognizant that the global disruptions on the raw material supply chain are still expected to persist.
2. Reduced production cost – The main production cost components for Bamburi Cement are energy, power and raw materials such as clinker, remain higher due to supply chain constraints. However, we believe the logistic constraints will ease going forward hence reducing the cost of major production inputs.

The counter has seen a rally in its share price in the last 2 weeks credited to Offloading of 70% Stake in its Uganda Business to Sarrai Group. Bamburi Cement has signaled that it expects to pay its shareholders a special dividend from the sale and also invest part of the sales proceeds to improving the business.

Recommendation

From our estimates and assumptions, we recommend SELL with a target price of KES 29.30. See our BAMBURI company report here.

Financial Performance

- CIC has recorded a steady growth in premiums at a CAGR of 6.0% over the last 5 years, increasing by 16.1% to KES 22.7Bn from KES 19.5Bn in 2021. The strong performance is on the back of continued execution of transformational initiatives focused on customer experience, operational efficiency, performance management, digitization, among others in line with the firm's 2021-2025 strategic plan.

- Net earned premium was the largest revenue contributor for CIC accounting for 78% of total Gross Income in 2022. The key contributors to the premiums are Group life, Medical Insurance and Motor Insurance premiums at 28.95%, 24.46% and 20.29%, respectively

Outlook

We expect the business to have a positive outlook based on the below factors;

- Enhanced Digital Transformation– The Group has embarked on a digital transformation journey whose objective is to provide seamless end-end customer experience supported by emerging technologies. Investing in technology will strengthen and improve performance hence ensuring customer retention and growth in market share.
- Focus on Micro-insurance business (Co-operative Strategy)– The Group is focusing on improving its micro-insurance business to anchor growth prospects and cover the uninsured population in the country. The strategy enhances its distribution channel through Sacco-assurance and continued government support through the Ministry of Co-operatives and MSMEs.

From our estimates and assumptions, we see a significant upside potential and recommend a BUY with a target price of KES 2.92. See our CIC company here.

- Medical insurance remains a challenging business despite contributing more than 50% of Gross earned premiums having grown by a CAGR of 5.7% to KES 13.0Bn in 2022 from KES 9.8Bn in 2018. The business heavily relies on corporate clients.
