PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

The fund delivered a strong performance slightly underperforming the benchmark, supported by robust performance in the banking sector which led the broader market rally. The NSE All Share Index rose 4.71% over the month, while the NSE 25 advanced 4.42%, reflecting improved sentiment and sustained earnings momentum.

The rally was driven by corporate announcements and earnings releases particularly within financials and manufacturing where the fund maintains exposure. Market activity during the month was largely driven by sustained participation from local investors as foreign investor involvement remains limited.

Looking ahead, we expect continued strong investor participation to support the market, even as some price softening in select large-cap counters emerges with easing profit-taking.

We remain flexible in adjusting allocations as opportunities arise amid evolving market conditions and valuation considerations.
